

ABSTRACT

An inorganic fiber composite insulation batt is fabricated from mineral or inorganic fibers, preferably from scrap, and plastic-containing bonding fibers. The inorganic fiber composite insulation batt has substantially uniform density throughout its volume. The plastic-containing bonding fibers are used as the binder in this formulation.